I can't say they stole the stars

And put them in your eyes, girl

Can't say you stopped my heart and I need CPR

Can't really say I want you for my birthday

I've already gone through every cliché

Watcha say when you fall in love?

Words are never enough

It's all been done

It's all been said before

I gotta look for ways to strike the perfect chord

Gotta go against the flow

But how am I supposed to think it up?

When I'm dumb-du dumbstuck

Baby, everything's so overdone
But I guess you really know it when
Two hearts beat as one
But if I say my love for you grows stronger with each day
Could you forgive these unspeakable clichés
Watcha say when you fall in love?
Words are never enough

It's all been done...

It's all been done...
